Zoom Webinar

Presented by:

Susan McDonald, M.S., CCC-SLP

Speaker Information

Susan McDonald, M.S., CCC-SLP, has supervised numerous CFYs, RPEs, and SLPAs in both home health, public school, and non-public school settings across the country. She currently serves as program director and faculty for the Speech-Language Pathology Assistant (SLPA) Program at Cerritos College in Norwalk, California, where she has successfully guided over 180 students to complete an Associate's degree in SLPA since 2011. In addition to her SLP credentials, Susan has earned a K-12 teaching endorsement in English as a Second Language and presented on appropriate diagnosis of communication disorders in culturally and linguistically diverse children.

Disclosure

Susan McDonald is paid an honorarium for teaching this course on supervision. She has no non-financial relationship.

Course Description

This course will provide an overview of the legislation and policies for supervision of CFYs, RPEs and SLP Assistants at the state and national levels. Updates to supervision policies, including a review of current tele-therapy guidelines and the ASHA certification for SLP Assistants, will be discussed. This course will also explore Anderson's continuum of supervision and components of effective supervision.

Learning Outcomes

At the conclusion of this session participants will be able to:

- Identify the meaning and purpose of supervision and mentoring
- Describe California State requirements for SLP and SLP Assistant licensure
- Describe ASHA requirements for CFY supervision and SLP certification
- Explain tele-therapy and remote supervision guidelines for SLPs, CFYs, and RPEs
- Describe Anderson's continuum of supervision stages
- Identify 3 components of effective supervision
